Subject: Submission of Project Proposal – RDO Learning Centres for Rohingya Children and Youth (USD 50,000 / 12 months)

Dear Sir/Madam,

RDO – Rohingya Development Organisation respectfully submits this proposal for your kind consideration. We propose a 12-month, community-based learning-centre project serving 200 Rohingya students in Camps 4, 5, 17 and 18 in Cox's Bazar, Bangladesh, with a total budget of USD 50,000 (about USD 250 per student).

We understand that NRC works with displaced communities in education and protection, and we would be honoured to explore a partnership with your organisation. RDO proposes to establish and operate four small, safe, inclusive centres offering supplementary education, English and communication skills, basic digital literacy, life skills, child-protection awareness, gender-equality and gender-based violence (GBV) prevention awareness, sports, arts and youth-development activities.

RDO recognises that these centres must complement, not replace, existing education and protection services. The project therefore begins with service mapping, needs assessment and coordination with NRC, relevant humanitarian actors and camp authorities, and is built on safeguarding, survivor-centred referral to qualified GBV and child-protection services, monitoring and accountability. No centre will operate before the necessary permissions and approvals are obtained.

We would be grateful for the opportunity to meet, receive your technical guidance, and discuss whether RDO may be considered for an appropriate partnership or funding arrangement. We are fully prepared to adapt the design, budget, locations and indicators to NRC's standards and requirements.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Respectfully yours,

Ershad Hossain

1. Executive Summary

RDO is a proposed community-based, non-profit organisation focused on education, child development, youth skills, protection awareness and community participation. This project will establish four small learning centres, subject to permissions, site assessment and coordination. Each centre will serve about 50 students, with the final distribution adjusted according to needs, existing services, safe access and coordination findings.

Centres will provide literacy and numeracy support, English, reading and study skills, digital literacy, life skills, child-protection awareness, sports, arts and youth leadership. A dedicated component promotes gender equality, respectful relationships and healthy values, and prevents GBV, with safe disclosure and referral to qualified services. The project will not replace formal education or specialised protection or GBV services.

2. Background and Problem

Rohingya children and young people in Cox's Bazar continue to live in prolonged displacement, with limited space and resources, interrupted learning, few age-appropriate skills opportunities and ongoing protection risks. Adolescent girls and young women may face GBV, harassment, child marriage and exploitation, while boys and young men may also face violence and pressure. Safe, age-appropriate information about respect, boundaries and healthy values is limited. With humanitarian funding under severe pressure, small, targeted and well-coordinated interventions are especially important. RDO's centres are therefore designed to fill verified gaps without duplicating existing services.

3. Goal and Objectives

Goal: To contribute to a safer, educated, skilled and hopeful future for Rohingya children and youth through accessible, inclusive, community-based learning and development opportunities.

- Provide structured supplementary learning to 200 students across four camps.
- Improve literacy, numeracy, English communication and study skills.
- Provide age-appropriate digital literacy, life skills and leadership opportunities.
- Increase awareness of child rights, safeguarding and safe help-seeking.
- Promote gender equality and healthy values, and strengthen GBV-prevention awareness and referral.
- Promote safe sports, arts and recreation that build confidence and teamwork.
- Identify and refer children needing specialised support through established pathways.

- Establish accountable systems with monitoring, feedback and safeguarding mechanisms.

4. Target Beneficiaries

Location	Planned direct students
Camp 4	50
Camp 5	50
Camp 17	50
Camp 18	50
Total	200

The 50-student allocation is an initial planning assumption, to be adjusted after needs assessment, service mapping and coordination. Participation will be voluntary, safe and non-discriminatory, with attention to girls and boys, disability and other barriers. At least 50% of enrolled students are targeted to be girls.

5. Project Components

Component	Main activities
Learning support	Literacy and numeracy, English, reading and study clubs, homework support, learning games and assessments
Digital literacy	Basic computer operation, typing, file management, online safety, supervised responsible technology use
Life skills and youth	Communication, teamwork, problem solving, decision making, leadership, financial-literacy and career awareness
Child protection	Child-rights awareness, safe help-seeking, prevention of child marriage and exploitation, service information, complaints channels
Sports, arts, recreation	Football, cricket, drawing, storytelling, poetry, educational games, team-building
Gender equality and GBV prevention	Dignity and mutual respect, body safety and boundaries, healthy relationships, safe disclosure, engagement of boys, girls, caregivers and community leaders

Curriculum and timetable will be aligned with education-sector guidance and will not be presented as a replacement for recognised formal education. GBV and healthy-values sessions will use sector-approved, age-appropriate materials, be consulted with caregivers and community leaders, be held in separate girls' and boys' groups where appropriate, and be led by trained facilitators. RDO will follow a survivor-centred approach and will not provide GBV case management or clinical services; any disclosure will be referred to qualified providers.

6. Learning Centre Model

Element	Proposed model
Centres	4, one per target camp, subject to approval and safety assessment
Learners	About 50 per centre, in two groups of about 25 organised by age and competency
Operation	Two alternating sessions per centre; same space, equipment and facilitators serve all students at low cost
Daily schedule	08:30–15:00: literacy/numeracy, English, study support, digital/life skills/GBV-prevention sessions, sports and arts
Feedback and referral	Child- and caregiver-friendly feedback; referral through established humanitarian pathways

7. Staffing Plan

- Project Manager (also Education Coordinator) – implementation, coordination, reporting and learning quality.
- Centre Facilitators / Teachers (about 8) – two per centre, at least one woman per centre where feasible.
- Safeguarding, GBV and Protection Focal Point (part-time; female where feasible) – safeguarding, complaints and survivor-centred referral.
- MEAL and Finance/Admin Assistant (combined, part-time) – monitoring, feedback, budget, procurement and records.
- Community volunteers – supervised support for approved activities.

The lean structure reflects the USD 50,000 budget. Final staffing and rates will be confirmed with NRC. Personnel will not be claimed as recruited until recruitment is complete.

8. Implementation Approach

- Start-up and coordination: confirm permissions, map existing services, assess sites and safety.
- Community consultation: transparent criteria and age-appropriate participation procedures.
- Recruitment and training: safe recruitment; safeguarding, PSEA, GBV-basics and code-of-conduct orientation.
- Centre preparation and delivery: approved spaces, basic equipment, attendance and asset systems, then structured learning.
- Monitoring and review: monthly review of attendance, learning, feedback and safeguarding; quarterly reviews with NRC.
- Endline and transition: final assessment, lessons learned and a responsible continuation or exit plan.

9. Coordination and Safeguarding

RDO will coordinate with NRC, UNHCR, camp authorities, and the education, child-protection, GBV and health actors, and will map services in each camp before starting related sessions. Before any child-facing activity RDO will have in place a Child Safeguarding Policy and Code of Conduct, safe recruitment, mandatory safeguarding/PSEA/GBV-basics orientation, confidential child-friendly complaint channels, incident reporting procedures and a GBV referral pathway mapped per camp.

10. Monitoring, Evaluation and Accountability

Indicator	12-month target
Students enrolled / participating	200
Learning centres operating	4
Students completing learning assessment	At least 80% of active learners
Students receiving protection awareness	200
Students receiving gender-equality / GBV-prevention sessions	200
Caregivers / community members reached	At least 100 (planning target)
Girls among enrolled students	At least 50% (planning target)
Participation in enrichment activities	At least 80% of active learners
Staff/volunteers trained in safeguarding, PSEA, GBV basics	100% of active personnel
Feedback mechanism operational / quarterly reviews	4 centres / 4 reviews

A baseline and endline assessment of literacy, numeracy, English and digital competencies will be used mainly for learning support, not exclusion. Data will be disaggregated by age and sex where safe, and sensitive protection data will not appear in routine reporting.

11. Risk Management

Risk	Mitigation
Duplication with existing services	Service mapping and coordination before launch
Access / security restrictions	Flexible scheduling, safety protocols, coordination
Weather / natural hazards	Emergency procedures and contingency scheduling
Safeguarding incident	Policies, training, screening, supervision, reporting
Low participation by girls	Consultation, safe scheduling, targeted outreach
Community sensitivity on gender/GBV topics	Prior consultation, approved materials, separate groups
Child discloses GBV or abuse	Trained staff, survivor-centred referral, confidentiality
Staff turnover / funding delays	Training, documentation; phased procurement and cash planning

12. Twelve-Month Workplan

Phase	Main activities
Months 1–3	Coordination and service mapping, site assessment and permissions, recruitment and training, centre setup, baseline assessment
Months 4–9	Learning activities, protection awareness, sports/arts, youth and digital skills, GBV-prevention and caregiver sessions, monthly monitoring, quarterly reviews
Months 10–12	Continued delivery, endline assessment, final report, lessons learned and transition planning

13. Budget – USD 50,000

Budget line	Amount (USD)	Share
1. Teachers and education facilitators	19,000	38%
2. Centre rent/space and utilities	5,500	11%
3. Learning materials and stationery	3,500	7%
4. Furniture and classroom equipment	3,000	6%
5. Computer and digital learning equipment	3,000	6%
6. Child protection, GBV prevention and safeguarding	4,500	9%
7. Sports, arts and recreation	2,000	4%
8. Youth / life-skills activities	1,500	3%
9. Monitoring, evaluation and accountability	2,000	4%
10. Transportation and field logistics	1,500	3%
11. Administration and communications	1,500	3%
12. Financial audit / compliance	1,000	2%
13. Contingency / risk management	2,000	4%
TOTAL	50,000	100%

Average cost: about USD 250 per student and USD 12,500 per centre over 12 months. The largest allocation is frontline education delivery; capital costs are limited to essential furniture and digital equipment. Final unit costs will be validated against local market prices, approved salary scales and NRC's budget template.

14. Sustainability and Transition

The project builds local capacity through teacher development, youth leadership, community participation, safeguarding systems and improved MEAL and financial procedures. At least three months before completion, RDO will review service availability, needs, funding prospects and coordination options, and centres may be continued, integrated with another provider, redesigned or responsibly closed, always prioritising continuity of learning and safe referral.

15. About RDO

Vision: To build a safer, educated, skilled and hopeful future for Rohingya children and young people.
Mission: To support vulnerable Rohingya children and youth through educational support, learning opportunities, life skills, child-protection awareness and activities that help them develop their potential.
"Every child has a dream. Every young person has potential. Displacement should not destroy their future."

RDO will work with humility, transparency and respect for the community, and seeks partnership with experienced humanitarian actors rather than replacing existing systems.

16. Request for Partnership

RDO respectfully requests NRC's consideration of this USD 50,000, 12-month project to establish four community-based Learning Centres serving 200 Rohingya students in Camps 4, 5, 17 and 18. We welcome NRC's technical guidance and are prepared to revise the design, budget, indicators, locations and arrangements based on verified needs, existing services, approvals and NRC requirements.
